WELCOME BACK Jody

Jody Anderson was diagnosed with Stage IIIc Ovarian cancer in January. After undergoing surgery and 18 weeks of chemotherapy, she is back working full time.

Hi Everyone,

I just wanted to say thank you for all of the love and support I received through cards and donations. Your support means so much to me! I couldn't have made it through my cancer treatments without all of the positive thoughts and prayers you have sent my way. The notes you have written to me brought much needed smiles to my face. The donations have helped to pay the "never-ending" medical bills. Words cannot express my sincere gratitude.

I am back at work full time, and I will know more about my cancer treatment at the end of September when I go back to the Mayo Clinic. For now I am feeling well, and can't wait to see all of you at your next appointment.

Love,

Jody
